HOT WATER HEATPUMPS

The new generation Bosch Compress 3000 is even more efficient in cold climates. This Air to Water heat pump provides reliable, energy efficient hot water for your home. Heat extracted from the air is used to warm the water. This reduces energy consumption by more than 65% compared to a conventional electric storage hot water system.

Full delivery and installation services available.

GAS HOT WATER

Bosch offers high-quality and high-efficiency hot water solutions to suit domestic or commercial applications. Our gas water heaters are among the most economical in the market. High efficiency ratings mean you'll save on running costs while lowering your impact on the environment. At the same time knowing you have chosen quality, something Bosch is renowned for.

Full delivery and installation services available.
